STRONGER together

Looking back, this year has been a difficult one for many people. We rang in 2020 with optimism and excitement only to have this turn to isolation and uncertainty with the appearance of Covid-19. Whether we wanted to or not, we were thrust in our current "normal". Although its easy to get stuck thinking negatively, it is important to recognize some of the positive moments.

With the children schooling from home and many parents working remotely, this created new opportunities for families to spend time together. The SPCA also experienced high numbers of adoptions as families were home to settle in a new furry family member.

People are getting outside more often to enjoy a walk and fresh air. Thank you to everyone who decorated windows and sidewalks to bring artistic interest and joy to the neighborhood.

Communities pulled together! Brevoort Park is a small but mighty neighborhood. When some of our families experienced hardship related to nutrition, you stepped up and provided monetary, food, clothing, and toy donations to make it easier.

And how about that blizzard? There were so many feel good stories from the community about neighbors helping neighbors with snow removal and stuck cars. A big high five to the street who hosted a "snowblower party" and helped keep everything moving. Was there someone that was extra helpful? Nominate them to the Snow Angel program with the City of Saskatoon.

Sometimes its hard to see the good out there. If you find that you are having difficulties, you are not alone. The BPCA has recently added a new Covid-19 mental health tab on the website. Go to the address below or message us on social media and we can share some options.

Musicians with Local Roots

Johnny moved to the neighborhood with his family in 1966, shortly before his father opened the Sunset Hardware store in Market Mall. He attended Brevoort Park School and spent his childhood at the rink, the park, and touring the neighborhood on bike or foot. Johnny would graduate from Walter Murray. He worked a variety of jobs and played in local bands before moving to Toronto to pursue a career in music.

In Toronto Johnny met some other Westerners and started a band called Pursuit of Happiness. It was through this that Johnny met his future wife and song-writing partner, Leslie. Along with the band, they toured the world and recorded music before creating Universal Honey, a new music venture.

After the birth of their son, Julian, in 2006, Johnny and Leslie decided to return to Saskatoon to focus on family. Just like his dad, Julian attended Brevoort Park School and will be off to Walter Murray. Julian has developed the same passion for music as his parents and plays multiple instruments.

Currently, you will find Johnny and Leslie performing around the city as an acoustic duo or in Undercover Pirates. They have released new music with Tucker Lane and Universal Honey. You can see their talent for yourself on Youtube (Tucker Lane) or head to: www.tuckerlane.ca, www.universalhoneyband.com, www.honeytunes.ca

Full story of Johnny and Leslie is available in the online newsletter (www.brevoortpark.ca)*

The Community Association sold 50/ 50 tickets leading up to the event to help support programs, special events and initiatives.

Halloween Scavenger Hunt

Many of our community members were looking for an alternative to traditional trick or treating and opted to join the Hunt. Over 100 children and their families explored the neighborhood seeking spooky cats, ghosts and pumpkins. A big thank you to everyone who donated treats for the goody bags and participated in family fun. If you see Cheryl D, congratulate her on being the winner of the pizza dinner!

All community events are directly funded by your participation in BPCA programs. Thank you!

Thank you to our sponsors for the sanitizer donations.

Keeping our community safe!

Turkey Bingo

We tried something new with an online bingo.

Congrats to Erik S and Siobahn R, our bingo winners!

There is another bingo planned for the new year. Watch for your chance to play.
